MASON BEGINS SECOND SPRING PRACTICE ON CAMPUS

This spring, Vanderbilt Head Coach Derek Mason will greet a more experienced team than his initial unit, and one seeking more success than a year ago.

Mason will welcome 78 prospects on Feb. 16, the earliest start to Vanderbilt spring drills in memory.

The Commodore spring roster features 53 letterwinners, 10 more than the squad Mason greeted last spring. It also features nine offensive starters, nine defensive defensive starters and both starting specialists. The improved depth is exhibited from Vanderbilt's 2014 regular season finale vs. Tennessee: 37 of the 44 players on Vanderbilt's two-deep are in uniform this spring. "I'm definitely more comfortable with the guys and this team is more comfortable with my style and our expectations," Mason said. "This spring we're going to practice hard with high tempo and practice smart. It's going to be about the work, competition. We need to exit Spring Ball as a better and more confident football team, prepared to get the most of the offseason and summer."

Mason has made addition changes to the Commodore calendar this spring. Besides being the first SEC to start spring drills, Mason also will use the program's new Indoor Practice Facility to stage early-morning practices on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

LUDWIG BRINGS HISTORY OF SUCCESS TO VANDERBILT OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR ROLE

Andy Ludwig comes to Vanderbilt as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach with a proven history of creating successful and productive offensive attacks.

Ludwig has more than two decades of experience as an offensive coordinator at the collegiate level. Most recently, Ludwig directed the Wisconsin Badgers' offense to recordbook production in two years on campus in Madison.

While helping the Badgers to the program's fifth 11-win season in 2014 and a 20-7 overall record, Ludwig's offense was regarded among the most powerful in Big Ten and team history. In 2014, Wisconsin's 4,482 rushing yards established a new Big Ten record and the unit's 320.1 rushing yards per game as the conference's highest average since 1976.

Ludwig's Wisconsin offense also featured Melvin Gordon, who ended his careeer as one of the most productive runners in NCAA history. As a senior in 2014, Gordon finished second in the Heisman Trophy voting, won the Doak Walker Award and consensus All-America recognition, and was a finalist for the Maxwell and Walter Camp Player of the Year awards after rushing for 2,587 yards, the second highest single season total in FBS history, and 29 touchdowns. Gordon briefly held the FBS record for single-game rushing yards after amassing 408 yards in three quarters of action vs. Nebraska. Gordon also posted a remarkable average of 206.0 rushing yards in Big Ten Conference action, and ended his career with an amazing 251-yard performance against Auburn in the Outback Bowl.

Ludwig's production at Wisconsin came after a run of similar successes in coordinating roles at San Diego State (2011-12), California (2009-10), Utah (2005-08), Oregon (2002-04) and Fresno State (1998-2001).

EIGHTEEN POSITION STARTERS BACK FROM 2014 'DORE SQUAD

While a competition exists for every Commodore starting position, the Vanderbilt spring roster includes 18 position players that started five or more games last year.

Vanderbilt's 18 returning starters ties Tennessee for the most among SEC teams entering spring drills.

The list includes five offensive players that started every game last year: Jake Bernstein (R-Sr., OG), Andrew Jelks (R-Jr., OT), Spencer Pulley (R-Jr., OG), Steven Scheu (R-Sr., TE) and Ralph Webb (R-So., RB).

HANKTON, MATTIOLI ADDITIONS TO 'DORE COACHING STAFF

Along with the offseason hiring of Wisconsin offensive coordinator Andy Ludwig, Derek Mason also attracted a pair of talented young coaches to the Vanderbilt staff.

In the last month, Mason hired Cortez Hankton as wide receivers coach and Marc Mattioli as safeties coach.

Hankton, a former six-year NFL receiver, joined the staff just before National Signing Day. He did a superb job at Dartmouth University during the last three years, helping the Big Green witness a reversal of their gridiron fortunes. Dartmouth went 20-10 overall, and 8-2 in 2014, during Hankton's tenure.

Mattioli, a former coach at LaGrange (Ga.) College, worked with Mason for two years as a defensive graduate assistant at Stanford. In 2014, he continued with the Cardinal in a defensive quality control role, assisting the Stanford secondary.

NEW ROLES FOR THOMPSON, MAXIE

Coaching responsibilities have changed for second-year defensive mentors, Kenwick Thompson and Brett Maxie.

Thompson takes over both inside and outside linebackers this spring after mentoring outside 'backers in 2014. He also gains more responsibility with defensive meetings and operations with Mason assuming the defensive coordinator post.

Maxie will mentor Vanderbilt cornerbacks this spring, after coaching the entire secondary in 2014.

QUARTERBACK ROLE LOOMS LARGE AS VANDERBILT ENTERS SPRING

Three quarterbacks with starting experience from a year ago and a redshirt freshman prospect will look to impress new offensive coordinator Andy Ludwig this spring.

The trio with starting experience looking to claim the job this spring are Wade Freebeck (So.), Johnny McCrary (R-So.) and Patton Robinette (R-Jr.). They will be joined in the quarterback competition by Shawn Stankavage (R-Fr.).

Robinette has five career starts, including two last year as he played through injuries. Robinette's 64.2 percent completion percentage (43 of 67) ranked first among the team's signal callers in 2014.

McCrary started the final five regular season games as a redshirt freshman. While completing 51.2% (78 of 152) of his passes, McCrary was the team leader with 985 passing yards and nine TD passes.

Freebeck witnessed four midseason starts as a true freshman in 2014 before hand injuries slowed his development.

Stankavage used his first season on campus to build arm strength and add weight. He brings a dual-threat ability to the position.

NEW INDOOR FACILITY ALLOWING COMMODORES' PRACTICE CHANGE

New athletic facilities on campus are allowing Derek Mason to push the start of Spring Practice deep into winter.

Mason expects the squad to stage weekday workouts in the Indoor Practice Facility, which opened in late 2013 near the team's outdoor John Rich Practice Facility.

Due to the indoor facility, Mason does not expect to lose any of the team's 15 potential practice opportunities due to inclement weather.

Prior to having the facility, wintry weather frequently cause havoc to Vanderbilt's spring drills. In 2004, Head Coach Bobby Johnson opened Spring Practice on Feb. 19, but struggled to complete several practices.

More facility improvements are coming for Vanderbilt student-athletes. Construction crews broke ground in January on a 9,200-square feet athletic training facility in McGugin Center. The expansion, expected to open this fall, doubles capacity for athletic trainers, and offers student-athletes world class services to ensure their overall well-being now and in the future.

The center will include dietary, examination and treatment rooms, a conference room, two team doctor offices, new office space for staff athletic trainers and a welcoming student-athlete entrance and lobby. It will also include three hydrotherapy pools and modernized equipment as well as more treatment tables, taping stations and cardio equipment. e indoor facility due to poor weather.

FORMER STANDOUT MARVE JOINS STAFF

Chris Marve, the No. 8 tackler in Commodore history, has joined the Vanderbilt staff as a defensive graduate assistant. As a linebacker and two-time captain, Marve produced 393 tackles from 2008-11.

The 2015 Commodore secondary looks nothing like it did a year ago.

Last spring, Vanderbilt coaches were looking to replace all four 2013 starters, including two future NFL players, in the defensive backfield.

This spring, the landscape has totally changed. Seven returning starters and several quality contenders are among the hopefuls at cornerback and safety.

and Oren Burks (R-So.) are the most experienced returnees at safety. McIntosh and Williamson earned nine starts at strong safety and free safety, respectively. Burks opened the year as the starting strong safety, and concluded with six starts. Williamson finished the year fifth on the team with 54 tackles. McIntosh and Burks ranked eighth and 10th with 40 and 37 stops, respectively.

Several talented youngsters will contend at the safety positions, including Jalen Banks (R-So.), Khari Blasingame (R-Fr.), Emmanuel Smith (So.) and Tre Tarpley (So.).

Torren McGaster (R-Jr.) and Taurean Ferguson (R-So.) ended 2014 as the Commodores' starting cornerbacks. An 11-game starter, McGaster topped the squad with 46 solo tackles. McGaster's two interceptions also shared the team lead with Ferguson, who contributed 25

Tre Bell (R-So.) and Ryan White (R-So.) also earned early-season starts at cornerback and nickelback, respectively.

Other young cornerback prospects are Tre Herndon (So.), Bryce Lewis (R-Fr.) and Ladarius Wiley (So.).

The Commodores' running back corps is led by Ralph Webb, who enters Spring Practice after setting several freshman rushing records in 2014.

Webb rushed for 912 yards last year, breaking the former freshman record set by Warren Norman in 2009. Webb's rushing total ranks No. 7 on the team's single-season charts. He also broke a freshman team record with 212 carries, the third highest rush attempt total in team history and the most since 1995.

Besides Webb, the Commodores return only one other letterwinner at tailback, sophomore Dallas Rivers. Versatile junior Darrius Sims is expected to get repetitions this spring at the position.

COMMODORE DEFENSE RETURNS LEADING TACKLERS FROM A YEAR AGO

Vanderbilt's youth movement on defense last year has resulted in 13 of the team's top 14 tacklers returning for the 2015 season.

Leading the list of returnees is a pair of young inside line-backers, Nigel Bowden (R-So.) and Zach Cunningham (R-So.). Bowden was the Commodores' leading tackler in 2014, posting 78 tackles as a first-year player. Bowden also ranked first among all Southeastern Conference freshmen in total tackles. Cunningham became a productive contributor after taking over a starting role next to Bowden at midseason. Cunningham finished

The only player among Vanderbilt leading tacklers not returning in 2015 is defensive tackle DT Vince Taylor.

TOP THREE RECEIVERS RETURNING FOR COMMODORE AERIAL ATTACK

Five of the Commodores' six leading receivers from a year ago, including the top three targets, are back for the 2015 season.

The group is headed by Steven Scheu (R-Sr., TE). Scheu earned second team All-SEC honors from coaches after leading the Commodores with 39 catches and 525 receiving yards.
Scheu's totals were the most by a Commodore in more than 30 years.

SACK LEADERS WEATHERLY, AZUBIKE BACK TO APPLY PRESSURE ON QBS

Vanderbilt's three leading quarterback sack specialists from a year ago are among the leading defensive returnees in 2015.

After moving to a new position before the season, Stephen

Weatherly (R-Jr., OLB) became arguably the unit's most productive player as the 2014 campaign came to a close. In his last five games last year, Weatherly totalled 30 tackles, 10.5 tackles for loss, and four ΩB sacks.

Caleb Azubike (Sr., DE) was another defender facing the transition of playing a new role last year. After starting at outside linebacker, Azubike moved to defensive end, concluding the year with four sacks.

Adam Butler (R-Jr.) and Jay Woods (R-So.) have the versatility to play tackle or outside as an end. Both are coming off solid 30+ tackle seasons in 2014.

COMMODORE ALL-SEC CANDIDATES

CALEB AZUBIKE Sr., Defensive End

Vanderbilt coaches believe Azubike will blossom in 2015 as a second-year defensive end in the team's 3-4 scheme. The senior ranks among SEC active leaders with 12 quarterback sacks and 20 tackles for loss.

NIGEL BOWDEN R-So. Inside Linebacke

R-So., Inside Linebacker
An SEC All-Freshman selection and Freshman All-America selection in 2014, Bowden was the conference's leading tackler. A ballhawk with superb physical skills, Bowden is an anchor in the middle of Vanderbilt's 3-4 defensive alignment.

ADAM BUTLER

R-Jr., Defensive Tackle/End

Versatile enough to play either tackle and end, Butler has been one of the team's most productive lineman since arriving on campus. Coming off several single-season highs, Butler has 13.5 tackles for loss among 60 career tackles.

SPENCER PULLEY

R-Jr., Offensive Line

Experienced and productive, Pulley should be a pillar on the Commodore offensive front. Pulley has 29 career starts at offensive guard, but possesses the versatility to play guard or center in 2015.

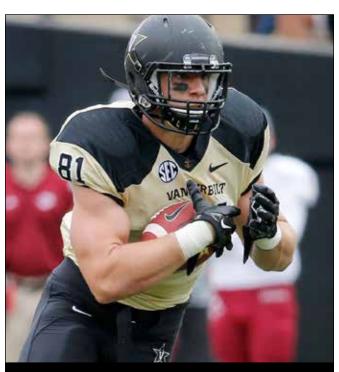

COMMODORE ALL-SEC CANDIDATES

DARRIUS SIMS

Jr., Return Specialist

Sims earned Second Team All-SEC honors as a kickoff returner in 2014, averaging 24.5 yards on 31 returns. His two-touchdown return performance vs. South Carolina ranks among the best single-game efforts in conference history.

STEVEN SCHEU R-Sr., Tight End

Scheu earned Second Team All-SEC honors last year after leading all Commodores with 39 catches and 525 receiving yards. Scheu's receptions total was the most by a Vanderbilt tight end since the mid-1980s.

STEPHEN WEATHERLY

R-Jr., Outside Linebacker

Playing a new position in 2014, Weatherly blossomed late in the season, amassing 10.5 tackles for loss and four QB sacks in the last five games. As Weatherly masters the OLB role and builds strength, he could become a dominating presence on defense.

RALPH WEBB R-So., Tailback

Webb appears to have a vital role in Andy Ludwig's new Commodore offensive attack.

HEAD COACH DEREK MASON

Mason and Vanderbilt student-athletes celebrate the coach's first victory as head coach of the Commodores.

Named Vanderbilt's 28th head coach in January 2014, Derek Mason heads into his second season in charge of the Commodores on the heels of attracting another outstanding signing class and adding some very accomplished coaches to his staff.

Regarded as one of the top defensive minds in the nation, Mason will take on the added responsibilities of being his own defensive coordinator in 2015. Additionally, Mason turned the keys to the offense over to veteran offensive coordinator Andy Ludwig, who joins the Commodores after two record-breaking seasons at Wisconsin and nearly 20 years of experience calling plays.

Mason also lured former Nebraska strength coach James Dobson to oversee Vanderbilt's strength and conditioning program. Cortez Hankton, a longtime NFL veteran and rising star in the industry, was added to Mason's staff as a receivers coach.

The changes were made after a 2014 season where the Commodores finished 3-9 overall.

In February, Mason welcomed 18 signees to the program, while securing the highest-ranked signee in school history for the second year in a row.

Away from football, Mason continues to be actively involved in the community, contributing to several local and university causes, while making appearances at various social and sporting events.

Mason served as associate head coach and Willie Shaw Director of Defense for the 2013 Pacific-12 champion Stanford Cardinal before being hired at Vanderbilt.

"I am so excited to be at Vanderbilt," Mason said at the time he was hired. "This university combines the best of what's good about college athletics and academics. We expect to be competitive and look forward to competing for an SEC East crown."

Defensive coordinator at Stanford since 2011, Mason helped take the Cardinal to Rose Bowl appearances in 2013 and 2014, and consecutive

DEREK MASON: FACTS & NOTES

ONE OF NATION'S ELITE DEFENSIVE COACHES

Mason has changed the perception of Stanford Cardinal defense during his time on campus. The 3-4 scheme Mason helped develop at Stanford is now viewed among the most aggressive and innovative in college football. After the 2014 season, Mason announced that he was returning to his roots and would serve as Vanderbilt's defensive coordinator.

COACHED IN FOUR CONSECUTIVE BCS BOWLS

Since being hired by then-Stanford Head Coach Jim Harbaugh prior to 2010 season, Mason was a key figure in arguably the greatest era of Cardinal football. Between 2010-13, Stanford played in four straight BCS bowl games: the 2011 Orange Bowl, 2012 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, 2013 Rose Bowl and 2014 Rose Bowl. Alabama is the only other team that can make the same claim. During the four-year period, Stanford owned an overall record of 45-8.

COACHED BACK-TO-BACK PAC-12 CHAMPION TEAMS TO ROSE BOWL APPEARANCES

Mason's last two years at Stanford with Head Coach David Shaw concluded with appearances in the Rose Bowl. The consecutive appearances in Pasadena, by way of earning Pac-12 titles, ranks as a modern-day first for the Cardinal program.

Pac-12 titles with one of the nation's top defensive units. Under Mason, the Cardinal ranked among the NCAA national Top 15 in defensive efficiency for three consecutive years.

While facing seven ranked opponents and one of the nation's toughest schedules in 2013, Mason's defense ranked third in the NCAA in rushing defense (89.4 yards), 10th in scoring defense (19.0 points) and 16th in total offense (343.1 yards).

The Cardinal was one of only five teams last year to allow less than 100 rushing yards per game. The team was also among the best nationally in producing stops for negative yardage, ranking fifth with 44 sacks and seventh with 109 tackles for loss. The defense was also superb on third downs, holding opponents to a 32 percent conversion rate.

Off the field, the Cardinal ranks among the nation's best with a football graduation rate of 95 percent. Like Vanderbilt, Stanford ranks among the nation's elite academic universities.

In 2012, Mason was a finalist for the Broyles Award, given annually to the nation's top assistant coach, after directing a defense that ranks among the best in the nation and finest in Stanford history. The 2012 unit broke Stanford's single season record for quarterback sacks and topped the Pac-12 in numerous categories, including scoring defense and total defense, helping the Cardinal to a 11-2 season capped off with a Rose Bowl crown.

Mason's leadership paved the way to a historic defensive output in 2012, breaking Stanford's single-season sacks record (57) and pacing the Pac-12 in scoring defense (17.2 points), total defense (336.2 yards) and rushing defense (97.0 yards). In 11 of 14 games in 2012, Stanford held its opponent to 20 or fewer points, including a 14-point effort in the overtime win at top-ranked Oregon, who led the FBS with a 54.8 scoring average.

The 2012 Stanford defense held eight of 13 opponents under 100 yards rushing, and in a string of three consecutive games, the Cardinal recorded three of its top-10, single-game rushing defense performances in school history.

In 2011, Mason's first year as co-defensive coordinator, he teamed with Jason Tarver to mold Stanford into one of the Pac-12's top defensive units. That season, the unit ranked either first or second in the Pac-12 in six defensive categories, including rushing defense, third-down conversion defense, scoring defense, total defense, sacks and opponent first downs. Stanford finished third nationally in rushing defense. Mason joined the Cardinal staff in 2010, serving as secondary coach under then-Stanford coach Jim Harbaugh. Mason's 2010 secondary, which featured three players now in the NFL, was one of the team's most improved units, posting 18 interceptions.

At Stanford, Mason helped develop an array of Cardinal defensive standouts, including All-Pro cornerback Richard Sherman of the world champion Seattle Seahawks, All-America defensive end Trent Murphy, All-America linebacker Shayne Skov, and All-Pacific 12 safety Ed Reynolds.

Prior to his arrival in Palo Alto, Mason served as an assistant defensive backs coach for the Minnesota Vikings from 2007 to 2009, playing a vital role in the team ranking sixth in total defense in 2008 and 2009 as the Vikings won NFC North titles each season. Mason was introduced to the NFL coaching circles through the Minority Fellowship program in 1996 with the St. Louis Rams and also spent time with the coaching staffs of the New York Giants and Oakland Raiders. He joined the Vikings staff in 2007, where he worked with defensive backs coach Joe Woods.

Before joining the Vikings, Mason tutored wide receivers at Ohio University under head coach Frank Solich, helping the Bobcats improve from 4-7 in 2005 to a 9-5 campaign the following year that ended with an appearance in the GMAC Bowl. Mason spent the 2004 season as the wide receivers coach at New Mexico State, where he helped the Aggies lead the conference in passing.

During the 2002 campaign, Mason mentored the receivers and assisted with the special teams at Utah. The Utes also featured the NFL Draft's No. 1 overall pick in quarterback Alex Smith and eventual 7th round pick receiver Paris Warren.

Mason's move to Utah came after a three-year stint at Bucknell (1999-2001) in which he gained his first experience as a defensive assistant coach. At Bucknell, Mason served as defensive backs mentor for three straight winning Bison squads.

Mason's first three collegiate positions came as an offensive assistant at Mesa Community College (in 1994), Weber State (1995-96) and Idaho State (1997-98).

As a player, Mason was a two-year starter and four-year letterwinner at Northern Arizona. He was recruited to the university by Head Coach Larry Kentera, the grandfather of current Vanderbilt receiver Kris Kentera.

During his NAU career, Mason was influenced by several outstanding coaches, including Kentera, former Minnesota head coach Brad Childress, Jets offensive coordinator Marty Mornhingweg, Kansas City head coach Andy Reid, former Louisville head coach Steve Kragthorpe, and former UCLA head coach and Vanderbilt coordinator Karl Dorrell.

Mason earned a bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Northern Arizona in 1993.

A native of Phoenix, Mason attended Camelback High School.

Andy
Ludwig
Offensive Coordinator • QBs

1st year on Vanderbilt staff

Former Wisconsin coordinator Andy Ludwig enters his first year as Vanderbilt's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

Ludwig joins Vanderbilt after two seasons as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Wisconsin, where the Badgers set numerous offensive records. A coaching veteran with 28 years of experience, Ludwig's coaching career also includes stops as coordinator at San Diego State (2011-12), Cal (2009-10), Utah (2005-08), Oregon (2002-04) and Fresno State (1998-2001).

Ludwig helped rewrite the Wisconsin record book as the Badgers tallied two of the three highest offensive outputs in school history en route to a 20-7 overall record and consecutive Jan. 1 postseason bowl appearances. The 2013 Wisconsin offense averaged a school-record 480.8 yards per game (6,251 yards in 13 games), while averaging the third-most points in school history (34.8 points per game). The 2014 squad nearly matched those totals, averaging 34.6 points and 468.9 total yards.

Ludwig's Wisconsin offenses were led by running back Melvin Gordon, a 2014 Heisman Trophy finalist and consensus first-team All-America. Gordon rushed for 2,587 yards in 2014, establishing the second highest single-season rushing total in NCAA FBS history. Gordon capped the season with a 251-yard performance in Wisconsin's 34-31 overtime victory over Auburn in the Outback Bowl. Gordon also paced all NCAA FBS backs with 29 rushing touchdowns and briefly held the NCAA single-game rushing record after a 408-yard effort in a November win over Nebraska. Behind Gordon, the 2014 Badgers amassed a school-record 4,482 rushing yards in 14 games, breaking a record established in 2013.

Wisconsin was one of just four FBS teams to amass 3,500 rushing yards and 2,500 passing yards during the 2013 season, joining Oregon, Northern Illinois and Ohio State. Overall, UW's explosive offense ranked second in the country with 15 plays of 50-plus yards, with the Badgers scoring on 10 of those home-run plays.

Prior to joining Wisconsin, Ludwig spent the 2011-12 seasons at San Diego State. In 2012, the Aztecs went 9-4, including 7-1 in the Mountain West Conference. In 2011, San Diego State averaged 427.4 yards per game. Ronnie Hillman ranked fourth nationally in rushing (1,711 yards) and was selected in the third round of the NFL draft. QB Ryan Lindley, was a sixth-round draft choice of the Arizona Cardinals.

Ludwig completed his 20th year as an offensive coordinator at the NCAA level in 2014. His teams have been to 15 bowl games with nine bids in the past decade. Prior to his years at San Diego State, Ludwig served as the offensive coordinator at California (2009-10), Utah (2005-08), Oregon (2002-04), Fresno State (1998-01), Cal Poly (1997) and Augustana (1993-94).

Ludwig helped Utah go to four consecutive bowl games, including a 2009 Sugar Bowl win over Alabama, as the Utes finished 13-0 with a No. 2 national ranking.

Ludwig's mentoring of quarterbacks includes two other signal callers that eventually played in the NFL, Kellen Clemens of Oregon and 2002 NFL Draft No. 1 pick David Carr of Fresno State.

Ludwig played two seasons as a wide receiver at Snow College in Utah (1982-83) before earning a pair of letters at Portland State (1985-86).

Ludwig and his wife, Jill, have a son and a daughter.

Frank Maile

Defensive Line Coach 2nd year on Vanderbilt staff

Frank Maile enters his second year on the Commodore staff, contributing his efforts as defensive line coach.

In 2014, Maile directed the Commodore defensive line from a 4-3 formation to 3-4 scheme. Vince Taylor, who moved to nose tackle in the 3-4 alignment, and versatile tackle-end Adam Butler put together their finest years under Maile.

Beforejoining Derek Mason's staff, Maile served six seasons at his alma mater, Utah State.

During the last three years, Utah State has enjoyed virtually unparalleled success. Like Vanderbilt, the Aggies just played in their third straight postseason game for the first time in school history and has a combined 28-13 over the three-year span.

In 2013, Maile's defensive line helped Utah State to a 9-5 overall record, capped by a 21-14 victory over No. 24 Northern Illinois and Heisman Trophy candidate Jordan Lynch in the Poinsettia Bowl.

Utah State's 2013 defense ranked seventh in the nation in scoring defense (17.1 pts.), 8th in rushing defense, 12th in total defense and 15th in pass defense efficiency.

During the 2012 season, Maile helped Utah State's defense rank first in the Western Athletic Conference and seventh in the nation in scoring defense and sixth nationally in sacks. The unit also paced the WAC in total Utah State's 2012 defense also led the WAC and ranked second in the nation in red zone efficiency.

In 2012, Maile coached three defensive linemen to All-WAC honors: senior Al Lapuaho, redshirt freshman Jordan Nielsen and junior Connor Williams.

As a senior in 2012, Lapuaho finished with 35 tackles, 4.5 tackles for loss and 3.0 sacks. Nielsen finished with 5.0 sacks and 6.5 tackles for loss. Nielsen had 4.5 sacks and blocked two kicks during the year. Williams finished the 2012 with a team-high six sacks.

During the 2011 season, Maile helped Utah State's defense end the year ranking first in the WAC in total defense, second in the conference in rushing defense and tackles for loss, and third in the league in pass efficiency defense and quarterack sacks.

In 2011, Maile coached senior defensive end Levi Koskan who earned second-team All-WAC honors after finishing the year with 27 tackles, 10.0 tackles for loss and a team-best 5.5 sacks, as well as six quarterback hurries. Overall, Koskan ranked eighth in the WAC in sacks and 12th in tackles for loss. Maile also coached Quinn Garner and Lapuaho that season, with both contributing 31 total totals.

Prior to joining the Aggies as a full-time position coach, Maile spent two years as a strength and conditioning graduate assistant at Utah State.

Maile was a standout defensive lineman for the Aggies from 2004-07, enjoying 21 career games. He was a senior co-captain, finishing his career with 19 tackles for loss among 71 total stops. He also earned his bachelor's in interdisciplinary studies and his master's in education from Utah State.
